

New Stilbaai Sakekamer Website!

Due to unforeseen circumstances the Stilbaai Sakekamer recently lost its website and all related content. This unfortunately means that all member directory listings are lost, and we have no way of recovering the data.

The good news is that we have built a fresh new website but this must be populated from scratch. We have decided to allow businesses to load their own website entries as this provides you with the flexibility to make changes as you require. And yes, we do have mechanisms in place to ensure that there is no re-occurrence of the loss of data.

The link to the website is www.stilbaaibusiness.online

We will also use this website to give you access to the Stilbaai Sakekamer documentation.

We have allowed for three listings that registered users can add to the site:

- A directory listing with your contact details, description of your services, address details and pictures / logo, social network links etc
- An event listing with event details, location etc
- Vacancy board where you can advertise for staff

To prevent spam from being posted these listings will be approved by admin before becoming visible.

To post a listing you must register as a user on the website.
